moosepeople

Moosebutter is a comedy vocal quartet that specializes in unique community entertainment. Part vocal ensemble, part street-theater, part improv comedy troupe, and part rock band, moosebutter is known for their crazy, wacky, spontaneous musical humor. moosebutter has been called “Saturday Night Live meets the Mormon Tabernacle Choir” (Aviva Arts Media, Boulder, CO) and compared to ‘Weird’ Al Yankovich, They Might Be Giants, and “Whose Line Is It, Anyway?”

Since 1999 moosebutter has performed at hundreds of arts festivals, private events, community celebrations, music conferences, schools, and charity fundraisers. Singing original and parody comedy songs, as well as fusing improvisation and unexpected audience interaction into every performance, moosebutter delivers a hilarious musical experience that the whole family can enjoy. moosebutter also wears flattering red track suits just in case a stray frisbee game breaks out during one of their concerts.

Moosebutter has shared the stage with jazz groups, rock bands, classical ensembles, punk rockers, American Idol's Carmen Rasmussen, stand-up comedians, jugglers, church choirs, professional beatboxers, and belly dancers. moosebutter's music has been praised by Lucasfilm, PETA, and geeky college students the world over.

“Authentic young comic geniuses.”

Primarily A Cappella

A stoic Diva, he's at home on the stage...

He sings opera, pop, and classical, has a Bachelor's degree in music, and has been a featured soloist on recordings and with the Mormon Tabernacle Choir.

But don't let the air of sophistication fool you - he certainly sounds amazing, but he is also genuinely, unabashedly funny. His subtle humor and charm bring an element of elegance and repose to moosebutter's normally frenetic pace.

Once called 'a Mexican John Belushi'...

...also “a ferret on a caffeine buzz,” “Mr. Perpetual Motion” and “freaky spazz guy.” All of which are accurate, and in his case flattering, descriptions.

Trained in show choirs, men's choruses, and contemporary a cappella groups, Weston specializes in R & B, Funk, and celebrity impressions. He is short (5'4”), rotund, and abnormally hairy, which he uses to his romantic advantage.

A student of music and comedy...

Currently pursuing a Masters of Music degree in Choral Conducting at the University of Colorado, Boulder, Tim writes most of the group's music.

His work with moosebutter has won composing, arranging, performing and recording awards. When not singing with moosebutter he enjoys exercise, international food, and the occasional game of drink-maple-syrup-til-it-squirts-out-your-nose.

Singing low and kicking out the jams...

The arch-typical superhero: by day, a mild-mannered computer programmer, devoted husband and father, and good friend with an amiable personality. At night, he becomes FUNNY BASS SINGER GUY, defending jocularly with smooth vocal basslines, odd humorous asides, and wicked, rocking vocal percussion grooves. He is currently the faculty advisor for the Brigham Young University A Cappella club.

“One of the world’s funniest and most original a cappella groups.”

Deke Sharon, President, The Contemporary A Cappella Society

“moosebutter is an original, smart, laugh-your-pants-off-funny group. The vocals were fabulous. Weeks later, we’re still laughing. The shows at the university can be poorly attended, but moosebutter drew a huge, appreciative crowd.”

Kendall Larson, Southwest Montana Arts Council

“moosebutter is really, really entertaining. A ton of fun; awesome time. Hilarious! moosebutter promotes originality and shows that it’s okay to be weird. They can do so many different things with their voices. They come up with so many original ideas. You don’t want it to end!”

Claire, 17 years old, Dillon, MT

"It's difficult to type when I'm laughing so hard... MAN - what a great CD... 'I Hate Mosquitos' may become my all time moosebutter fave...but then there's 'HarryPotter'.... hmmm.... wait... there's 'Still The Shortest'....nuts...too many choices... BRAVO, gentlemen!"

Rick Alloway, KRNU 90.3 Lincoln, NE

“[moosebutter] takes the a cappella style of music and turns what has the potential to be stiff into something funny and even irreverent.”

Brett Merritt, The Daily Herald, Provo, UT

“Side-splittingly funny.... All listeners will be impressed by moosebutter’s creativity. The group has a terrific ensemble sound and energy to spare.”

Recorded A Cappella Review Board

Employee’s husband after company party, Alpine Physicians

“Your CD is killer. I listened to it with my son on the way into town this morning, and we were cracking up all over the place.”

David Edwards, Provo, UT

“Four authentic young comic geniuses.”

“Funny, bizarre, weird, brilliant, and totally bananas.”

Primarily A Cappella

“If Frank Zappa were still alive, he would heartily approve of moosebutter. It’s fairly hard to take these guys seriously, but one is pretty sure that’s what they’re after. With a combination of cheekiness and intelligence, they achieve amusement levels that will probably encourage cult-like adoration among fans. Expect these guys to be passed around for quite a while.”
